Veterans Description for Public

The Merrett Rifle Range Pavilion was located at 81-85 Kororoit Creek Road, Williamstown. The range at Williamstown was established in the colonial period and served as an important venue for metropolitan shooters. Rifle ranges were scattered all over Victoria wherever volunteers or militia gathered. Along with drilling, rifle shooting was an important facet of the part time soldier's life and there were many markmanship competitions between units.

This place/object may be included in the Victorian Heritage Register pursuant to the Heritage Act 2017. Check the Victorian Heritage Database, selecting 'Heritage Victoria' as the place source.
