Memorial Window Description & History

The Resurrection of Christ was an appropriate subject for a commemorative window, as it gave hope of a life after death to grieving families. Thomas Golden was the grandson of a pioneer of the St. Arnaud district, Thomas Benjamin Golden, the first Town Clerk, and elder son of Edward Harrison Golden, Shire Secretary of Kara Kara Shire in the 1930s and his wife, Ruby Mary. His brother Jack also served in the AIF. The Resurrection was designed and made by the Melbourne firm, Mathieson & Gibson. The window adjacent to it in the north nave, Christ Bearing the Cross, was erected in memory of the daughters of Thomas and Mary Golden, Florence, Adela (Sutherland) and Helena; it was designed and made by Stephen Moor, Ars Sacra Studio, Sydney.

Thomas Edward Golden was born in St. Arnaud and enlisted at Royal Park, aged 25. While serving with Australian Army Service Corps 2/5 Coy in New Guinea, he died of injuries received in a road accident that occurred on 26 October 1942. He was buried at Bomona War Cemetery, Port Moresby, Papua New Guinea.
