Memorial Window Description & History

The Latin text of the lefthand light was taken from 1 Corinthians 1:30 'For us, Christ was made wisdom...' , the motto of the Geelong Grammar School, appropriately displayed beneath the school crest. Instead of the complex badge of the Royal Australian Artillery, the initials 'RAA' were placed beneath the Crown and above the post-Federation motto, 'Consensu Stabiles', that is usually translated as 'Firm and Steadfast'. These two lights were the first commemorative windows to fill the side aisles. The pair of windows, each measuring 28 1/2 x 12 1/8 inches, was ordered from Brooks, Robionson & Co. by Mrs HD Macartney in March 1933. The window was unveiled by Brigadier FB Heritage who spoke of Lieutenant-Colonel Macartney as a fine soldier, notably on the Western Front, and his influence as an instructor at Duntroon Military College. A plaque with details of the military career of Lieutenant Colonel Macartney CMG DSO was made in Opus Sectile by Brooks, Robinson & Co., and installed on the column separating the two lights. 'Opus Sectil'e was the proprietary name of an opaque vitreous tile that, like glass, could be painted and then kiln-fired to make a permanent image or inscription. Many were made by the firm as honour rolls for churches and schools throughout Australia.

Major Henry Dundas Keith Macartney was a 36 year old permanent army officer, second-in-command of No.1 Squadron Flying Corps, when left Australia with the AIF aboard HMAT Orsova on 16 March 1916. He was mentioned in dispatches for his gallantry and rendering effective service, most notably in battles at Bois Grenier and the Somme. His organisational and leadership skills were considered outstanding and were recognised with the award of DSO, gazetted 1 January 1918, while commander of 7 Australian Field Artillery Brigade, and again when he was made a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George on 3 June 1919.
