Construction dates	1888,
Hermes Number	24154
Property Number

Physical Description 1

A stuccoed Italianate, hipped-roof mansion of two storeys with a two-level return cast-iron verandah which is terminated by two protruding bays, at the east and north: a parapetted tower rises over the latter. Ornament is restrained with duplex eaves-brackets, interspersed with rosettes; balustrading in the parapet and balconettes; and string and impost mouldings which circumnavigate the house.

The garden contains mature plant species (presumably from the 19th century) whilst the general evergreen bedding and scoria paving is sympathetic to the period.

Integrity

A bay has been added to the south to replicate the existing details; a further inspection is required to ascertain its effect on the integrity of the original house.

Physical Description 2

Streetscape

Set back and screened from the later suburban development; discernable as an early house in the area.
