Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

The oak drive at Oak Springs is of significance to the Cardinia Shire for its maturity, extent and its associations with one of the oldest pastoral runs in the district, the Mt. Ararat No.1 run, which was leased in the 1840s by John Dore and Michael Hennessy. Dore's son, Thomas, owned the site of the Oak Springs farm complex in the 1860s. The present complex, which may retain elements of its early Dore ownership, contains a range of buildings from later ownership. The original house has long gone but the extensive avenue of oak trees may date from the Dore ownership.

Physical Description 1

This long and notable English oak drive leads along a flat up to a semi-derelict timber farm complex (altered 1920s house, older ruinous barn) set on the side of a hill overlooking the quarry. There are some more mature trees near to the house complex. A new brick house is further up the hill. There is a pond and part of an ornamental garden at the rear of the 1920s house, with cordylines and other exotic plantings.

These oaks may be over 100 years old but appear to be stunted, possibly because of the close spacing.

Physical Conditions

The oaks appear generally in poor health.
