Statement of Significance

Last updated on -

The Elsternwick post office recalls the stylistic freedom of the post Wardell years in the Public Works Department and is an intact and superior essay in the Elizabethan style, comparable with Kew and Queenscliff (facade defaced). It is a prominent building in the Elsternwick Commercial Centre and is associated with the adjoining Rifle Club and Park, demonstrating the public uses given to this land which had been reserved from sale for railway purposes

Physical Description 1

An imposing former post office showing Elizabethan influence in black tuckpointed red brickwork with cement enrichment. The facade has a projecting lower level with symmetrical corner entries in the manner of post and telegraph offices with a central window to the former public.

A pedimented balcony over provides the setting for the upper level which reinforces the motifs used in the enrichment of the lower level. Break fronted treatment is repeated on the side elevation, facing Riddell Pde which has a set back former residential entry to the quarters which .have been rebuilt to serve as office space.
