Statement of Significance

Last updated on - May 28, 1999

What is significant?

The Warracknabeal Post Office was constructed in 1906-07 to the design of the Victorian Public Works Department architect Samuel Bindley. The two storeyed building is constructed in the English Domestic Revival style and features face brickwork to the ground floor level and half timbering to the upper storey. The elaborately ornamented exterior features heavily ribbed chimneys. The postmaster's quarters which, with four large bedrooms, an elegant drawing room, living room, dining room and kitchen, is one of the grandest postal residences in Victoria. The postal chamber is by comparison quite modest and has been extensively altered over the years although it has retained its pressed metal ceiling. An addition to the south was made in 1912-13 to house the telegraph office.

How is it significant?

The Warracknabeal Post Office is of architectural significance to the State of Victoria.

Why is it significant?

The Warracknabeal Post Office is architecturally important as a successful example of the English Domestic Revival style as applied to a public building. It is well crafted and, unusually, its decorative half timbering is carried even into areas which are not immediately visible from the street. It is an important work of the Public Works Department Architect Samuel Bindley. The post office is architecturally significant as a picturesque and imposing element of the Warracknabeal streetscape and is one of the finest public buildings in western Victoria.

Permit Exemptions

General Exemptions:

General exemptions apply to all places and objects included in the Victorian Heritage Register (VHR). General exemptions have been designed to allow everyday activities, maintenance and changes to your property, which don't harm its cultural heritage significance, to proceed without the need to obtain approvals under the Heritage Act 2017.

Places of worship: In some circumstances, you can alter a place of worship to accommodate religious practices without a permit, but you must notify the Executive Director of Heritage Victoria before you start the works or activities at least 20 business days before the works or activities are to commence.

Subdivision/consolidation: Permit exemptions exist for some subdivisions and consolidations. If the subdivision or consolidation is in accordance with a planning permit granted under Part 4 of the Planning and Environment Act 1987 and the application for the planning permit was referred to the Executive Director of Heritage Victoria as a determining referral authority, a permit is not required.

Specific exemptions may also apply to your registered place or object. If applicable, these are listed below. Specific exemptions are tailored to the conservation and management needs of an individual registered place or object and set out works and activities that are exempt from the requirements of a permit. Specific exemptions prevail if they conflict with general exemptions.

Find out more about heritage permit exemptions here.

3. If there is a conservation policy and plan approved by the Executive Director, all works shall be in accordance with it.
4. Nothing in this declaration prevents the Executive Director from amending or rescinding all or any of the permit exemptions.
5. Nothing in this declaration exempts owners or their agents from the responsibility to seek relevant planning or building permits from the responsible authority where applicable.

History

Although this building was constructed in 1906-07, well after Federation, it was designed by Samuel Bindley of the State Public Works Department. The Victorian PWD continued to construct buildings as agent of the Commonwealth for some years. It was not until 1912 that the Dept of Home Affairs Victorian Public Works Branch took responsibility for all new Commonwealth buildings, and the Commonwealth Department of Works and Railways was formed in 1916.

The previous post office built in 1890 and altered in 1891 and 1901 was demolished in February 1906.
