Horticultural Value;
Location or Context: contribution to landscape
Outstanding example of Species

Eastern specimen. The finer example of two specimens of this Victorian raised cultivar on the site. Whilst not uncommon in cultivation, this tree is particularly outstanding for its dramatic upright form, dense blue crown and contribution to the landscape. The smaller of the two trees on the site is a multi-trunked open-centred specimen which could benefit from minor cabling. It has a circumference (at ground level) of 1.89m, height of 11.2m and canopy spread of 6.2m
